Mr. J. E. Boush—Sir: While I am in general opposition to Patent Medicines, candor compels me to state that I have great confidence in the virtues of HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINC-TURE. For several months past I have used it in my family, and in dispepsia, loss of appetite, dizziness and general debility, with entire success. So far as my experience extends, therefore, I take pleasure in recommending it to the afflicted, as a safe and efficient remedy.

sixteen. I am now seventy-four years of age.
I consider your Tincture the greatest discovery of the and poor suffering humanity ought to erect a monument to Dr. Bampton, who has saved thousands from pain. And you, gentlemen, have acted the part of public benefactors in disseminating the benefits which have resulted from your invaluable remedy.

I am a plain cotton planter, and have never written for iterary tame; but when my fellow beings are afflicted, shall I hesitate, or through modesty, withhold any information valuable to my fellow man? So, if you consider this worthy of a place in any of your newspapers, you are at liberty to make use of it.

The Cuban Press on American Affairs.

The Diario of May 24, publishes an article of four columns in relation to Mr. Thrasher's pampplet on the Cuban Question, as reproduced by the Washington Union, and the comments of the latter journal upon the same. The article opens with some of the customary insulting observation respecting the United States, which it accuses of being over anxious about national honor, at a moment when the attention of the European Powers is engaged elsewhere. It then goes to hint, very broadly, the probable embarrassment of American cotton growers, and threatens the action of privateers upon our commerce in case of war with Spain.

Taking Thrasher's pamphlet in review, it justifies the case of the Georgiana and Susan Loud by simple assertion, and passing on to the case of the Falcon and Lamartine, in 1851, it declares that the Gowar with Spain. vernment of the United States would be unworthy of the name had she allowed the outrage, alleged by Mr. Thrasher, to pass unredressed. These vessels, it asserts, were fired upon because they failed to show their colors, as repeatedly requested to do by Spanish vessels of war. Their hesitating to do so is styled provocation, and the evidence of a desired cause of complaint. The detention of the Ohio at Havana, in 1852, is referred to an infringement of the sanatory laws, and justified. The boarding and the detention of the Manchester, in the same year, is explained by the fact that the ship in question was found among the keys, along the Cuban coast, without a valid reason for her having so altered her destination, and that the Spanish cruisers would have been direct of their duty, had they failed to arrest and register the suspicious vessel.

The repeated violation of the United States mails, in 1853, is defended, on the ground that "subversive documents," &c , were shipped into the Island of Cuba. The repeated violation of the United States Mails, in 1853, is defended on the ground that "subversive documents," &c., were shipped into the Island of Cuba, in the said mails, and that the Captain General was determined to execute the laws prohibiting such papers. FOR GOVERNOR, THOMAS BRAGG Of Northampton.

It is of one the things that we cannot understand how any of the people of North Carolina, no matter what their party affiliations may have been, can act in connection with a party so radically and totally bursted up and divided as the Whig party now is, through the unanimous action of its Northern wing-which hardly pretends even to keep any sort of terms with the South, or to recognise the existence of its Southern associates on any other condition than that of unconditional submission to Northern dictation. The fact cannot any longer be concealed, or its acknowledgment evaded, that the Democratic party at the North is now engaged in a desperate struggle for existence, against every usm that can be rallied under the banner of opposition, and to the assistance of what was the Whig party North. The grand point of convergence, is opposition to the Democratic party and to the South. In every election during the pendency of the Nebraska Bill, and since its passage, Whigs and Know-Nothings, and Abolitionists, and Fresoilers, and all sorts of things too numerous to mention, have been leagued together, and too frequently with success. In every State a desperate effort will be made against those Northern Senators and Representatives who voted for the Nebraska Bill, (none of them Whigs,) and for a time, at least, they may be forced into retirement by the united action of the isms. How anybody can any longer claim for the Whig party, under 'these circumstances, a national existence, we repeat that we are unable to see or understand. How Gen. Dockery can talk about it-how he can pretend to wait and see what the Northern Whigs will do, in face of his knowledge of what they no means as great an enigma as to understand how, claiming connection with Northern Whiggery, having been the Secretary of the caucus which slaved Fillmore to put up Scott, he can hope to receive the support of a majority of the voters of North Carolina. The thing has come to a point-the option is not left with the Southern Whig party to spurn their abolition friends at the North. That section of the party, now thoroughly abolitionized, has already spurned them; and yet Gen. Dockery will "wait and not. We venture to say that this hanging on to a Northern Aboliton faction will be sternly rebuked by the people of the State at the election in August next.

Mark the tone in which Cassius M. Clay, that ferocious Kentucky abolitionist, in his letter to the New York Tribune, denounces every man from the North who voted for the Nebraska bill, as deserving death, deal with them in business-banish them from the so- own glass houses. cial circle, and disfranchise them practically forever." In the foreign advices by the Pacific, we find lit-Russians, who threaten inevitably to take Silistria, unless some more active measures be soon taken for have yet adopted. The operations in the field or at sea, however, are comparatively insignificant, the main interest hinging upon the movements of the German Powers. The rise in the English Funds is significant in this connection, as affording evidence of a growing belief, in monied circles, that these powers will eventually co-operate, to some extent, at least, with the Western Powers, in bringing the existing hostilities to some cenclusion, though not, perhaps, to such a decisive result as the ardent crusaders against Russia might desire. Austria and Prussia have a deep interest in the re-establishment of peace, their own situation between the belligerent parties being perilous in the extreme-being threatened on all hands-Austria in her Hungarian and Poish provinces by Russia; and Prussia in her Rhensh provinces by France. It is probable that their reight being thrown into the scale, might induce Russia to make concessions to them, as it were, which her pride would refuse to the demands of the Western Powers, and these latter be compelled to put up with less satisfactory guarantees than they have boastingly claimed from their powerful antagonist. In any case, however, Turkey is doomed, if she be not already gone. Her wishes will be but slightly consulted in a matter which she is nominally the principal party, while er distinctive national character has already been sacrificed by the concessions imposed upon her by her friends. The Boston Affair.

The writer of a letter from Boston, a portion of which is published in the Charleston Mercury, very properly remarks, that the enforcement of the law in regard to Burns, the fugitive slave, was a triumph of law and order; but it was from a love of law and order at home, among themselves, and not of any love for the South, nor any desire to do justice to her. Had it not been that the peace and security of Boston were concerned, would the city authorities have moved hand or foot to have done justice or secured the enforcement of a law, framed for the purpose of doing justice to the South? There was plainly a wish to Chairman and Secretary for their services. avoid the requirements of the law-at least, a wish that they could find a way to escape from them. Rallroad Meeting in Onslow. On Monday of Court week, the 5th of June, the citizens of Onslow county held a meeting for the purpose of taking into consideration the project of a Railroad from the West to Beaufort Harbor On motion of W. Having briefly and clearly explained the subject of the occasion, on motion of Maj. G. I. Ward, the Chairman appointed a committee of five, to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting. The committee was composed of the following gentlemen,

We had an opportunity recently of hearing from one of the most liberal and intelligent merchant which to connect with our Western Road to the Deep River Coal Mines, and thence to the N. C. Road, at the Eastern terminus of the Western extension. And we learn that a correspondence has been going on between himself and a gentleman here on the subject. And further, we understand from the paragraph which we quoted in our last from the Wilmington Journal, that some such views were presented to the late meeting in that town to consider of the proposed road to Charlotte. These facts induce us to say a few words, which in their absence we should consider wasted, in suport of the connection via Fayette- mark.

There was a time when we thought the idea of a rail road from Wilmington to Fayetteville was supremely ridiculous. That was when no successful rail road existed in the State, and when the experiment 90,000 troops to relieve Silistria. of running a rail road on the banks of a navigable stream had not even been made, much less shown to ed on the Clyde on the 23d ult. be eminently successful: and when our means could be better employed than in opening a channel where 72f. 55c.; four and a half's at 97f. Nature had already placed one which answered the purpose tolerably well, to say the least. But that time is past. We should be glad to see such a road connecting these two towns. Not that we suppose much aid would be given here to build it. All the means that Fayetteville can command, and much, more, would be more judiciously applied in endeavoring to reach the West.

We will suppose that Charlotte is the point desired to be reached from Wilmington. The distance, by an air line, measured on McRae's Map of the State, ham, and Wadesborough, as proposed is 174 miles. cipalities of Turkey.

From Wilmington by Fayetteville, Rockingham, and Wadesborough, to Charlotte, is 187 miles; a difference only of 13 miles. And for this difference will Wilmington forego the advantage to the projected road of our present trade and travel, to say nothing of the coal to come by the Western Road, and the teeming produce of the West, which the extension of that road will pour down upon us first, and afterwards upon that place, (be it Wilmington or Beau. ube three several times, but in each were successfully fort,) which shall open her arms to receive it? Beau- repulsed. our intercourse is with Wilmington, and there is but and the banished princes are to be recalled little reason why we should desire it to be otherwise, except that Beaufort (or Carolina City rather) may come to us, and Wilmington may elect to go by us.

We regard it as a fixed fact that the N. C. Road is to be extended West, from Greensborough, Lexington, Salisbury, Charlotte, or some other point to be certain, we think, that our Western Road to Deep River will be extended to that point of connection .--Greensborough can be reached, via Fayetteville and Deep River, in about 165 miles from Wilmington, Lexington in 185, Salisbury in 143; and Charlotte, we think, of far more importance to Wilmington, which lone has the decision of the question. Charlette is now, we believe, 280 miles from Charleston, (by rail road.) The road proposed by Charlette to Wilmington will bring her within 208 miles of Charleston, only about 30 miles more than to Wilmington. And the construction of only 15 or 20 miles of Rail Road, from some point between Wadesborough and Rockingham, to Cheraw, might secure to Charleston most of the advantages of the Road proposed to be built to Wilmington. There are other considerations connected with the subject, but we have probably said enough to induce the people of both towns to think for themselves about it .- Fay. Observer.

LETTER FROM CASSIUS M. CLAY. WHAT SHALL THE FRIENDS OF REPUBLICANISM DO To the Editor of the New York Tribune-SIR-When some years ago I had the honor of replying to an invitation of a pertion of the members of the New York Legislature to address them upon the slavery question, I was thought by many a fanatic, because I avowed that it was not a question about the African, but " whether we ourselves should be freemen or slaves." Since then, what is there sacred in the constitution, in treaties, in laws, in broken down, and the remainder mounted with heavy guarantees of liberty, which has not been desecra-And now at last those "compromises" by which so many of us were humbugged-which were exalted above the " higher law " of revelation and conscience, are themselves trampled under foot-and by

The violation of God's laws is always wo? We com mitted a national crime in joining hands with the slave-holders to commit a determined wrong against the rights of the African, and now in due season the poisoned chalice is returned to our own lips.

> Does any man believe that in a fair contest between liberty and slavery the wrong will triumph?

What then shall be done? 1. In the first place, punish the traitors, as an example for all future times. I honestly believe that every man of the free States who voted for the repeal of the Missouri restriction deserves death. But there is no legal way of inflicting the penalty-the halter, then, they must escape. But one thing can be done-break them on the wheel of public opinion. Let no man deal with them in business-banish them from the social circle, and disfranchise them practically forever. This seems hard, but the race of traitors must die before we can live. 2. Let the elections, even for the most inferior offices, turn upon the repeal of the Nebraska bill, or its amendment, so that the people of the Territory shall have the unqualified right to vote slavery out. To do this, the free trader must give up his free tradethe tariff man his tariff-manufacturers, shippingnternal improvements, temperance, schools-all must. for the present, be held in obeyance to the one great question : Shall America be free or slave? 3. Although I think the free democracy are best based to achieve the end, we must tolerate and recognize all parties who will aid as allies. Congressional districts where the free democrats have a supposed larger force, let the whigs and democrats renominate the free democratic ticket. And where the whigs or democrats re-nominate the whig or democratic ticket, so as to defeat the serviles of all parties. In the Presidential Nominating Convention, let a delegate be sent from each Congresional district in the Union, of that party which has the Congressman, and let them vote a common candidate. Such a candidate, thus nominated, can in my opinion be elected triumphantly in 1856. Let that candidate-whether enton, Seward, or Hale, or any other good citizenbe chosen without regard to his locality in free or slave State. For our party is truly notional—theirs sectional. 4. Let us count the cost. All are, I imagine, now convinced that the extreme South is anticipating the dissolution of the American Union, and have been and now are using the nation all the time for their own ultimate aggrandizement. We must, therefore, calculate what is to be the result of our success. Suppose, then, a republican elected President, on the issue above stated, and that the ultras of the South, in their madness, overawe the more thoughtful citizens, and secede from Congress, and declare the Union dissolved. Then, either we must whip them in, or allow a peaceful reperation, as circumstances shall warrant. If we fight her we have the advantage of being the government de facto. We have the organization-the treasury-the navy and the army. If victorious, we could compel emancipation. If defeated we would be abundantly able to maintain our national existance against the world. And with Canada, Western Virginia, Kentucky, and Mississippi (which would probably unite with us) annexed, we would form a more powerful people than even now. In such events, all the central portion of North America would be ours; and should Northern Mexico prefer our alliances, as she no doubt would, as cotton grows upon all sorts of soils in a given latitude, we would even be able to raise abundantly that plant and the sugar cane, for which so many seem now willing to sell their liberties. Under the railroad system, we have less need to regard boundaries by mountains and water courses and even in that respect the lakes, the St. Lawrence and the Columbia, to us would be what the Mississippi is now. While the oceans would wash us on the notheast and west, we could well bide our time to expand our dominions over the feeble masters of the South to the Gulf of Mexico.

But the probabilities are that the South would set her only safety in the Union, and "acquiesce" in the "manifest destiny" of the triumphs of human rights, and begin in earnest to clear herself of slavery; till at last we should become peaceably a homogeneous people, and "liberty and Union" be forever establish-

Ye Sick, Read and Try Hampton's Tincture. BARRELVILLE. Alleghany County, Md., May 4, 1852.

To M ssrs. Mortimer and Mowbray—Dear Sirs.—In justice to Dr Hampton's Vegetable Tineture, I wish to inform you that I was taken sick on the 3d day of January last with an affection of the stomach, bowels and kidneys. I was attended by four eminent physicians for more than two months, all to little or no effect. I had some knowledge of the great virtue in Hampton's Tincture from one bottle which my wife had taken two years since.

I came to the conclusion that I would take no more medi-eine from physicians, but try the Tincture; and I am to inform you I had not taken it two days before I felt its powerful influence upon my stomach. I have continued using the Tincture, and am now ablato leave my room and can eat my stomach.

The afflicted or their friends are daily visiting me, to learn of the great virtue there is in this Tineture of Hampton's. I expect to send you several certificates in a few days—one especially, from a young lady who has been confined to her room for twelve months, with a disease of the head, affecting the brain.

WM. H. LIPPITT, Esq.,—Dear Sir:—I have no hesitation in saying that your Specific is one of the best medicines extant for Dysentery, Diarrhæ, &c. You possibly may recolused, but with little success; and after using enough to start twenty-five Homeopathic M. Ds., I began to despair, when you kindly offered me your invaluable Medicine, which cured me most effectually. S. J. CARBOLL.

WILMINGTON, N. C., August 14, 1851. WM. H. LIPPITT. Esq.,—Dear Sir:—I have used your Specific in two cases in my family for Dysentery. In one 4 papspoonsful effected a complete cure—in the other, three had the like effect.

Respectfully, &c., THOS. LORING, Ed. Commercial.

Respectfull, &c.

SAVANAH, Ga., December 26, 1851.

Mr. Wm. H. Lippitt, —Dear Sir.—It is with pleasure I acknowledge the wonderful effects of your Medicine for curing Diarhoea or Bowel Complaints, as I am satisfied it was the means, under God of saving the life, first of my Child, and then of my Brother. As my Brother was given up two of the most eminent physicians in this place, Drs. Richardson and Wregg, and when I consulted the latter, as the propriety of trying it on him so low, he said I might, to satisfy myself that I had left nothing untried, but he did not think that Medicine would be of any use to him. But, thank God, he was mistaken, as we saw the salutary effects in 24 hours, and in ten days he was able to be out of bed.

I remain yours, very truly and gratefully, Wm. Bally.

The same game was tried in New Hampshire, but without success. The Legislature of that State has met and chosen Democratic officers, over both Whigs and Free-soilers, who held a joint caucus.

MESSRS. EDITORS : - I will relate to you a little occurrence which took place to-day, from this Hotel :-After a 9 o'clock breakfast, I was sitting at a window smoking, when a very decently dressed fellow, rathcome too soon, to prove the correctness of our con- er slim, and thin visage, took a seat near me; a chat on parole. was commenced between us, when, very soon, he represented himself as a Georgian. I observed him, as I thought, pretty closely, and I believed could discover the appearance of a Southerner in him. He stated that he had arrived yesterday, with two other friends, and that, from being up pretty late, they had indulged rather too freely in Champagne-that one of his friends was rather indisposed, and he feared that he would have a chill, having been troubled with them before he left home. He then stated that he desired to see Greenwood Cemetery, and proposed, if I was not engaged, to take a ride over accompanying him. Having determined in my own mind, previous to his solicitation, to go over, I agreed to accompany him. Off we started, and, as we passed through the commodious passage-way out, he addressed another gentlemanly looking fellow, who refused to go, say-

Slave Law and the Nebraska Bill, whig politicians oratory, we, of course can have nothing to say, except Across and into another Omnibus we got, the tax still falling on him. We arrived. He had obtained three tickets of entrance into the Cemetery, which he stated when he made the proposition to me to accompany him. At the entrance gate, he drew from his every ism and wing of opposition at the North, for the poraries out of the State, that public hangings are pocket a very fine looking watch, attached, appaformation of a great sectional party, with the view of not the usual places at which candidates for Govenor rently, to a very fine gold chain, and remarked that his time and the clock on the Cupalo were very near together; and this diew my attention to his watch, as it was intended to do, no doubt, though I made no remark, but noticed the difference in time was very

When we got in, he rather opposed my opinion as to the first course we should take; I, however, yielded the point, and, after a long cruise, in rather an unsettled part-or, at least, a place where none of the workmen were in sight—we approached another fine looking, genteel dressed man, who observed that he to join in the treaty, to which they had subscribed. was a stranger, belonged to Ohio, but had been from home some six years, and had just returned by the na; and the French troops for Balkam. and was walking through, looking for some friends from whom he had separated. Soon after our meeting, we approached a monument of some Mariner, walked in front and took a seat, attracting our attention to the front of the monument. On going in front, this Ohio man pulled his handkerchief from his pocket, and in doing so he dropped a paper, and I informed him of the fact. He picked it up, stating that, if he had been alone he might not have observed it, and consequently, would have lost what he prized very highly. On opening the paper, he took out a most beautiful little black ball, saying it had been presented by some commander of a ship, and that the Chinese had invented it to carry their day's use of opium in, so as not to be detected -- that although it appeared so very solid, yet it was otherwise, and that there was a secret spring which opened to a small space in the centre, and in that space the opium was kept by them, and that he had never found any one to open it; he handed it to this Georgian, saying we could try while he stepped off a few rods; during his absence the Georgian opened it and took from the centre a small piece of paper rolled up, which he handed to me, saying, "Now we will have some fun from this fellow." He returned, the Georgian remarking that he had opened it. The Ohioan denied it as impossible. The Georgian stated that he had, and that there was not anything in it, and remarked, "I will give you two dollars to and you and the Ohioan may act as you please." I left them, was followed by the Georgian, soliciting my friendship, which was still refused, with my hand on a good revolver in my pocket. The Georgian then left me, saying he would turn and solicit the Ohioan to take the check, and I went my way, observing the scenery, but keeping a look-out for the strangers, neither of which I have met with since." Now, Messrs. Editors, although I was "green," yet the plan taken into consideration was certainly a deep laid scheme. A party in the Hotel to sanction the story of one sick friend, the ticket for three, another party stationed 8 miles off to carry out the design, the attraction of the watch, his apparent unacquaintedness with the city and appearances around, was well calculated to take a Southerner in, all alone in a place like New York; and this may benefit some poor green-horn like myself, by bringing him to the conclusion to LIVERPOOL, May 26, 1854 .- Since the date of last circu lar, the market for Breadstuffs has undergone some change On Saturday and Monday large speculative purchases of Flour were made at an advance of 6d to 1s & bbl on the rates of Friday, and 42s was paid for Philadelphia and Bal timore. This advance had the effect of checking the con umptive demand; and, with liberal supplies at this por and London, a concession of 6d to 1s Tuesday's market without leading to much business wheat, transanctions were limited at an advance of 2d 9 70 ths on fine qualities.

Indian Corn being in large request for Ireland, was freely taken at an advance of 1s a quarter. Since then prices have gradully given way; and at our market to-day, in the absence of country demand, there was but little done. Flour receof country demand, there was but little done. Flour receded to 39s $\pi$ bbl for good superfine. Wheat was generally held at previous prices; but the few sales made were at a decline of 3d to 6d $\pi$ bushel. At a decline of 6d to 1s $\pi$ quarter Indian Corn was in fair demand. Bacon is in good demand, but buyers are freely met h

Lard has declined 3s & cwt. with sales of prime at 46s 6d 47s. The supplies large.

Tallow continues depressed, and 62s is an extreme quota-ion. Holders, however, are not disposed to accept it. In Quercitron Bark the enquiry is very limited Naval Stores—Spirits and rough Turpentine are almost unsaleable.
